The An .agazines.

sast HARPER's is a brilliant mid-...mer number, opening with a bright and seasonable illustrated article by Mrs. Sandham, "A Trip on the Ottawa;" folpaper is a bright and attractive one by A. kindergarten. A. Hayes, entitled, "A New England Colony in New York;" and a brief paper on "Aix-les-Bairnes," contains much informa- hill, civil engineer, for a couple of handtion to travelers in search of health. Other somely printed and finely illustrated articles of interest are "Social Democrats pamphlets, demonstrating the entire pracin the Reichstag," showing the recent re. ticability and strongly urging upon capitalmarkable development of socialism in the German Reichstzg; an entertaining article of English railways; "A Lunch with the Druzis," by Dr. I. M. Ludlow; and a sketch proposed railway is 134 miles, which the or T. J. Wright, Eureke, Ill. by Rev. John E. Edwards of the celebrated "Pawnee Panic." The frontispiece is a delightful picture illustrating a quaint poem by Austin Dobson, entitled "A Love Song," and Alfred Parsons contributes antions of Wordsworth's poems. The second thousand miles, than the Panama canal. "Indian Summer," appears, and "East oceanic schievement of piercing the barrier bottle guaranteed to give entire satisfaction or money refunded. Sold at fifty cents a bottle Angels" is continued. There are three capital short stories; the Easy Chair of (and what intelligent person is not) the tholdi Statue, &c., and the other editorial study. departments, as usual, are well sustained.

The midsummer holiday number of the CENTURY (for August) opens with a lively anecdotal account, by Henry Eckford (with series of Italian cities, writes of his walks through Sienna, illustrated with numerous drawings, some of full page size. A sketch of Wm. Lloyd Garrison gives occasion for the introduction of an interesting group of portraits, including Garrison himself, Wendell Phillips, George Thompson, &c. The paper on "Typical Dogs" this month includes the Water Spaniel, the Collie, Fox, Terrier, and Scotch Deer-Hound. George Hes talks learnedly on "Hotel Keeping," and Henry King enlightens us on the situation in the Indian country. The fiction of the number embraces a short story, the Eichler. conclusion of Silas Lapham, and a continuation of "The Bostonians." The war series covers the "Last of the Seven Days' Battles," another chapter from the " Recol. lections of a Private," a story of "A Virginian Girl in the first year of the War," and a paper by Gen. Fitz John Porter on Malvern Hill. "Topics of the Times" and the other departments are unusually well sustained.

THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY for August opens with a full exposition of the American side of the Spencer-Harrison controversy, involving a charge of "piracy" against Spencer in the issue of his recent book on religion, through the Appletons in New York. Prof. Youmans certainly makes a strong showing for his side of the case, Mr. James Sully skillfully treats the ticklish question of "Genius and Insanity;" Dr. Mary Putnam-Jacobi presents some new ideas on Primary Education; Dr.Lubbock has an interesting illustrated article "On Leaves;" "The Future of National Banking" is ably discussed by E. R. Leland; Sir Henry Thompson discourses on "Diet in Relation to Age and Activity;" and Geo. P. Merril interests us in regard to "Building Stones in the United States." The addresses of Prof. Huxley and the Prince of Wales at the presentation of the Darwin lows statue to the British Museum are given; and there are articles on "Measures of of Peru. Vital Tenacity," "Curlosities of Time-Reckoning," and " Modern Bronzes, with a fine sketch of the noted French scientist fantum. and centennarian, M. Michel Chevecul.

ST. NICHOLAS for August is naturally a great out-of-doors number, opening with a a story telling how a little girl who wandered out-of-doors once made a fortune. Mrs. Gregory tells how little children up in the Catskills reversed the season and went coasting in August; Laura E. Richards takes a pleasant walk in the fields, and Grace E. Pennypacker poetically interprets not a gray hair in my head, and yet (sad to have combined to make it the curative triwhat the flowers said. Mary Hallock say) I am fifty and a day. Recently my Poote gives us a whiff of salt air in "A hair was not only quite gray but quite thin Constitutional on the Beach," where we can watch the flight of the Blue Heron it if you have occasion.
